Mercedes-Benz GLC 350e 4MATIC SUV Plug-in Hybrid Offers Best-in-Segment All-Electric Range

- Offering an impressive 87 kilometres of all-electric range¹, the new 2025 Mercedes-Benz GLC 350e 4MATIC SUV sets itself apart from the competition and sets the benchmark in its class.
- The vehicle is arriving at Canadian dealerships in Q4 2024 starting at an all-inclusive cash selling price of $69,738² (base MSRP: $64,900).

MISSISSAUGA, ONTARIO – Offering 87 kilometres of all-electric range¹, the new Mercedes-Benz GLC 350e 4MATIC SUV sets the benchmark in its class, providing the optimum balance of electric efficiency and extended range for longer journeys. The sophisticated hybrid system features a 134 hp electric motor and 24.8 kWh battery to deliver a combined system output of 313 hp and 406 lb-ft of torque. It offers an exceptional electric driving experience with an EPA electric range of up to 87 km¹, making most daily commutes more flexible and economical in all-electric mode without the need to rely on the internal combustion engine. Further optimizing efficiency, the "Hybrid" drive program prioritizes electric propulsion for the most appropriate driving situations, for example, during city driving. The optional 60-kW DC charging capacity enables a full battery charge to be achieved in as little as 30 minutes³.

Consistent with the broader GLC SUV lineup, the streamlined packaging structure of the new plug-in hybrid model offers Standard, Exclusive and Pinnacle Trims, each providing a variety of comfort features and advanced technologies. The generous standard equipment level includes a self-leveling suspension system,
